There are 3 classes that I am working on: MainActivity CameraHandler CameraController The problem I am having is when CameraController launches a new thread called CameraHandler and they start calling methods on each other the MainActivity will crash. Here are the methods that CameraController starts running: Handler.postDelayed(new Runnable() { @Override public void run() { Log.d("TAG", "Started running"); CameraHandler cameraHandler = new CameraHandler(CameraController.this); cameraHandler.startCamera(); Log.d("TAG", "Camera controller thread is running"); } }, 100); So what this method does is that it runs a Handler.postDelayed() in which it starts the CameraHandler in a separate thread. Here is my CameraController class: public class CameraController { private MainActivity mainActivity; public CameraController(MainActivity mainActivity){ this.mainActivity = mainActivity; } public void startCamera(){ try{ mCamera = Camera.open(); mCamera.setPreviewDisplay(mainActivity 82157476af
